"IF CHARGES M'GRAW MADE ARE DROPPED, HIS LEAGUE SHOULD QUIT BASEBALL"

—SAYS BAN JOHNSON.

President of American League
Outspoken in Condemning
Action of Giants' Manager

TENER WON'T NOTICE.

Believes New York Leader
Spoke Hastily When He Said
Team Wasn't Trying.

While President Tener of the National League and his associate, Garry Herrmann, on the National Commission, were inclined to drop the McGraw charges that his team did not play their best against Brooklyn yesterday in that peasant race deciding game, Ban Johnson, President of the American League, was outspoken to-day in his condemnation of McGraw's action. "Personally," he said, "I think it was an outrage, and had it occurred in the American League there would have been the devil to pay."

"Will the Commission take the matter up?" he was asked. "That is a matter for the National League to settle. If they are not big enough to handle it they should get out of business," replied Johnson.

Garry Herrmann was seen in his room at the Waldorf, but had nothing to say in connection with yesterday's game in Brooklyn.

"This is the first I had heard of the incident," he said. "At first I thought it was a joke."

"No; I believe now it was a fool act."

He declined to say whether the National Commission, of which he is chairman, would act.

President Tener was early on the job to-day with a statement that nothing would be done in the matter of the Giants' manager quitting the Brooklyn field.

"I have not talked with Manager McGraw, Secretary Foster or any other members of the New York team regarding the stories that the Giants deliberately laid down to Brooklyn," said President Tener.

"McGraw's action means simply that the wild Irish in him rose to the top when he thought his players were not doing their best."

"Personally I believe every man on the New York team was fighting tooth and nail to win."

McGraw could not be found to-day. It is believed he has left town to attend the race meeting at Laurel. He has said he was through leading the Giants for the rest of the season.

In baseball circles throughout the city to-day it was believed that McGraw had been so used to see his team win recently that his temper got the better of him when his Giants were outclassed by the new league champions.

McGraw's actions, which caused so much smoke and so little fire, occurred after the fifth inning, when he hurriedly left the Brooklyn grounds because his players were disobeying signals and fooling around. The Giants manager made this statement:

"I simply would not stand for the kind of baseball the team was playing. I do not believe that any of my players deliberately favored Brooklyn, but they simply refused to obey my orders and fooled around in a listless manner."

"When Perritt wound up with a man on first, allowing the man to steal second, I lost my patience and left the bench. I have worked too hard this season to stand around and

GERMAN EMPRESS WHO GIVES HER GOLD AND
PLATE FOR COUNTRY

KAISERIN GIVES UP GOLD AND PLATE TO AID GERMANY

Auguste Victoria Donates
Treasures From Household and Personal Property.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—History is repeating itself. Recalling the days, a little more than a century ago, when Prussia's existence was at stake and Queen Louise gave her jewels and plate on the altar of the Fatherland, the Empress Augusta Victoria has ordered all the replaceable or disposable articles of gold in the imperial court treasury, not of particular historical or art value, to be donated and turned over to the collection of gold articles, for the purpose of increasing the gold supply of the Fatherland, which was instituted some time ago in all cities.

The Empress, it is said, has also placed on the altar of her country many very valuable articles of gold and plate in the possession of herself and the Kaiser. Fired by the patriotic spirit of self-sacrifice of the Empress, many members of the court and the court secretary are following her example in giving gold to the collecting societies, and such disposable articles of gold, and such articles as dishes and jewelry, as can be replaced when happier days return to the country.

As the Empress is giving no small number of dishes, ornaments, and other articles of gold and silver, from the households of the imperial palaces, collectors undoubtedly will buy them from the gold collecting places at more than their intrinsic value, because of their historic connection.

ROUMANIANS FLEE BACK OVER DANUBE, BERLIN ASSERTS

Force That Crossed River to Flank Mackensen Was Attacked From Three Sides.

CZAR SENDS WARSHIPS.

Gunboats Shell the Bulgarian Left in Dobrudja, Where Battle Still Rages.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The Roumanian force that crossed the Danube and invaded Bulgaria has been forced to withdraw in hasty flight. It was officially announced this afternoon.

Attacked on three sides by German and Bulgarian troops and threatened with envelopment, the Roumanians retreated.

The crossing had been made near Rjasovo, the Roumanians using transports and pontoon bridges. "Autonic monitors destroyed one of the pontoon bridges, endangering the Roumanians' line of supplies. Meanwhile Bulgarian and German forces approached on both flanks and on the front.

Planned back against the river, the Roumanians were threatened with a repetition of the disaster at Tuturakan, where 23,000 Roumanian troops were trapped on the south bank of the Danube and captured while hundreds were drowned trying to swim the river.

The German-Bulgarian encircling movement thus brought to an end the first invasion of Bulgaria, widely heralded in the Allied press as the beginning of a great campaign to flank von Mackensen out of Dobrudja.

Regarding the fighting in Transylvania the official statement says: "In the Georgeny Valley the Roumanians made several vain attacks. West of Paradj they gained advantages. We are before Fogaras."

"West of Caneli, at the southern exit of Rothenburg Pass fighting took place with Roumanian troops, the latter having been dispersed during the battle of Hermannstadt. Enemy attacks in the Hatzeg Mountains were unsuccessful. West of Oboro Height our allies gained ground."

RUSSIAN GUNBOATS
BOMBARD BULGARIANS
FROM THE DANUBE

PETROGRAD, Oct. 4.—Russian gunboats on the Danube are bombarding the Bulgarian left flank near Rasova, in Dobrudja. It was officially announced to-day.

The Russian warships are co-operating with the Russo-Roumanian forces now attacking Field Marshal von Mackensen's army south of the Constantza Railway. The battle is going on along the line extending from Rasova through Kabaden to Pervell.

REPORTS TO LONDON SAID ROUMANIANS WERE HARD PRESSED

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Roumanian army that crossed the Danube into Bulgaria is under attack from three sides.

Small Bulgarian forces, detached from the garrisons at Rustchuk and Silistria, advanced against the invaders from west and east while German, Bulgarian and Turkish troops, moved up on the Varna railway, began a frontal assault. The battle has been raging since Monday with the result still in doubt.

At the same time the fighting in Dobrudja and in Transylvania, where the Roumanians are on the offensive,

BUILDING TRADES UNIONS PUT FINAL QUIETUS ON STRIKE

Resolution for Walk-Out in Aid of Traction Employees
Tabled Indefinitely.

"MOTHER" JONES HERE.

Men Coming Back at Rate of Thirty-five a Day, Says
Whitridge.

The general executive body of the Building Trades Unions of the five boroughs peremptorily put an end to-day to all talk of a general strike in the building trades by tabling the general strike resolution indefinitely.

The "tabling" was the final act of a two hours' session at the headquarters in Fifty-fourth Street near Third Avenue. Peter J. O'Brien presided. There were twenty-eight delegates present out of a total of 117. When the strike vote was called sixteen voted in favor and thirteen against a general walk-out.

Under the constitution a four-fifths vote is required to give official sanction to such unusual procedure as a general walk-out. There was some talk of "turning down" the constitution but it got nowhere. Finally one delegate made a motion to table the strike resolution indefinitely, and it was carried with a whoop.

LABOR LEADERS URGE SPEEDY SETTLEMENT.

It is the opinion of labor leaders to whom a reporter for The Evening World spoke to-day that the best thing Fitzgerald, Frayne and others can do for the labor cause generally is to "make the best kind of a settlement they can right away and set their men back to work."

Samuel Gompers is still in town and still "mum." It is understood he is thoroughly convinced the car strike should be settled as speedily as possible. According to some of the strikers' President Whitridge and Fitzgerald have had a conference within the last twenty-four hours. Fitzgerald will not talk about it.

"Mother" Jones, who is devoting her declining years to agitation in aid of union men on strike, addressed a big meeting of street car strikers this afternoon in Lyceum Hall, in East Eighty-sixth Street. She was brought here from Arizona to organize the wives and children of the strikers.

Displaying a clip containing five loaded rifle cartridges, "Mother" Jones advised the strikers to use bullets in their warfare against capital. She told of strikes in which she has taken part that were won by violence.

Three big meetings were held in Lyceum Hall during the day. Strike benefits from the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees were distributed at each meeting.

FAMILIES OF STRIKERS TO HOLD PARADE.

The wives, mothers, daughters, sisters and sweethearts of the strikers are preparing to take part in the campaign. They will meet to-morrow and arrange for a parade to be held Monday or Tuesday. Fitzgerald said there would be between 2,000 and 3,000 women and children in the parade, which will end with a meeting in Union Square.

President Whitridge of the Third Avenue Railway Company said traffic conditions were steadily improving. Men are coming back to work at the rate of thirty-five a day, he said.

Mayor Fiske of Mount Vernon, who has been called by the heads of the striking trolley men's union an "official strikebreaker," and accused of disloyalty by having the fifteen-day anti-strikebreaker ordinance amended, to-day declared the strikers incited riots and thereby brought about the change in the city law.

HISTORY IS MADE IN SECOND REEL OF T. R.-TAFT MOVIE

Real Warm-Up Meeting Staged in Union League Club Elevator After Supper.

FIRST ONE TOO FRIGID.

Honest Hands Met but Only Incentive for Smile Was Depew's Funny Story.

Owing to late hours, bad lights and too much supper, the second reel in the Union League Club political movie entitled "The Reunion" or "Eat Your Words," was not developed until this morning. It becomes necessary, therefore, for The Evening World to throw upon the screen the reels in reverse order.

There are numerous flickers in this latest reel which depicts a second meeting of Theodore and Will and serious cut-outs in the sequence of facts, due to the endeavor of Republican managers to capitalize for political effects their scenario.

National Chairman Wilcox, summoning reporters to his office, imparted to them the news of how Roosevelt and Taft had a real warm-up meeting after most of the guests had left the club. The first reunion scene had been such a frost that it did not get far across the audience; hence the importance of the second one.

STAGED IN THE CLUB'S ELE-VATOR.

It was a secret affair. In fact, it could not have been otherwise for it was staged in the club elevator. Despite Mr. Taft's strenuous reduction in weight to 365 pounds and Roosevelt's training down to 230 there was not room for anybody else in the elevator save the two unfriendly ex-presidents.

The elevator boy just managed to squeeze himself against the side wall at the lever.

"Going down!" he cried, and down went the two Republican movie heroes.

In that one brief shoot from second to first floor there occurred the momentous second meeting. History was made in three seconds.

In strictest confidence Chairman Wilcox imparted the secret.

"It was a most desirable and efficacious occasion," he said. It was the visual evidence that the party is reunited.

"Perhaps you gentlemen are not aware that there was a second meeting between the two ex-presidents. It was late in the evening after the supper. Mr. Roosevelt left the dining room to go home. Mr. Taft arose some minutes later. I do not know just how it occurred, but when Mr. Taft stepped into the elevator Col. Roosevelt was there and THEY WENT DOWN TOGETHER."

"In the elevator one of the gentlemen—I do not know which one it was—tapped the other on the shoulder and said: 'That's fine. You hit off the point exactly.'"

"Now mind you," added Mr. Wilcox, "I don't recall who it was told me this nor which man spoke to the other."

DOESN'T BELIEVE T. R. DID THE TAPPING.

"That's the first I have heard about the elevator scene," said George W. Perkins, "but I'll wager it wasn't the Colonel who did the tapping on the shoulder and said 'That's fine.'"

Both Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft left town early to-day.

WEALTHIEST GIRL

MARGUERITE B. DRAPER

WEALTHIEST GIRL
IN MASSACHUSETTS
IS TO WED A PRINCE

Miss Draper, Ward of Queen
Margherita, Engaged to H.
R. H. Boncompagni.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—"The richest young woman in Massachusetts," Miss Margaret Preston Draper, is announced to-day to be engaged to Prince Andrea Boncompagni of Rome, an officer in the Italian army recently wounded in the war. The date of the wedding has not been announced from Washington, where Miss Draper now makes her home.

She is the daughter of the late William F. Draper, former Ambassador to Italy, and her fortune is estimated at about $5,000,000. When she made her debut in Washington in 1911 live hummingbirds and butterflies were liberated in a miniature garden constructed for the occasion.

Miss Draper's godmother, for whom she was named, was Queen Margherita of Italy. At the time Mr. Draper was Ambassador in Rome, Mrs. Draper was Ambassador in Rome.

Prince Andrea, who was born in 1884, comes of an old Italian family.

HALES HIS SON TO COURT TO KEEP HIM OUT OF WAR

Father of Youth Who Fought With Canadians Says German Gas
Has Incapacitated Him.

Cedric S. Brower, who lives in Bath Beach and has seen service with the Canadian troops in Flanders, is determined to go back to the firing line, and his father, William S. Brower, is just as determined that he shall be dissuaded. So, to this end, he took his son to Magistrate Naah in Gates Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn, this afternoon to see if the Magistrate could prevail upon him to stay home.

Young Brower, who is twenty-six years old, was sent to a hospital in France after he had been overcome by German gas in the trenches. He remained there five months and was then sent back to Canada, whence he had enlisted. His father now says the gas has completely incapacitated him for further military duty, but the son holds a different view and said this afternoon that he intended to sail for England to-morrow on a cattle steamer.

Magistrate Naah said he would have a talk with the young man in chambers late to-day and try to urge him to remain.

Steel Costs United States 33 Per Cent. More Than Last Year.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Contracts for structural steel for new naval vessels were awarded to-day by the Navy Department at prices about 33 per cent. higher than were paid for similar material last December. The steel is for a hospital ship being built at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and a fuel ship at the Boston Navy Yard.

ALL-DAY CONFERENCES FAIL TO EFFECT A SETTLEMENT; FAMINE WORSE TO-MORROW

Attorney General Woodbury Has
Court Appoint Referee to Take
Testimony on Conspiracy Charges
—Increase in Price Is Offered.

"WILL SUPPLY WHOLE CITY IF GIVEN TIME," SAYS HORTON

The milk famine struck New York hard to-day. Thousands of families in the Bronx and on the east side, who ordinarily buy milk from grocers or other small dealers, were unable to get any. Children were the chief sufferers. It is expected the famine will be at its worst stage to-morrow.

Attorney General Woodbury came from Albany to try to bring about a settlement. After a talk with the Mayor, the Corporation Counsel and the Health Commissioner, Mr. Woodbury declared he would begin a thorough investigation on behalf of the State.

THOSE COLBY BROTHERS—THEIR ELECTION BET

Howard Says Everett Will Pay
His $100 Contribution to Wilson's Campaign.

There is discord, political and financial, in the Colby family of New Jersey. Howard Colby of Plainfield sent to Democratic National Committee a check for $100, saying that it was good Republican money he intended getting from his brother, Everett Colby, member of the Republican National Campaign Committee. Howard said he bet Everett $100 that Wilson would be elected.

"No Howard is framing this up on me," exclaimed Everett at Republican headquarters. "Do you know why that brother of mine is for Wilson? I'll tell you. When he was in Princeton he flunked on every examination and Wilson passed him. That's why, if he thinks he is going to win any of my money to pay for his Wilson contributions, he is greatly mistaken. The election won't turn out that way."

1,500 MIDDLE WEST MEN
ON WILSON PILGRIMAGE

Republicans and Progressives Will Join Democrats on Trip to Shadow Lawn.

Fifteen hundred Middle Western Democrats, Progressives and Republicans have announced their intention of making a pilgrimage to Shadow Lawn on Oct. 17, which has been set aside by President Wilson as Middle West Day. Special trains carrying the pilgrims will leave St. Louis on the morning of the 16th, and as they pass through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will pick up other Middle Western Wilson enthusiasts. At Shadow Lawn they will listen to a speech by the President.

There will be many orators on the train, and it is the intention to have them at stopping places enunciate the reasons why Wilson should be re-elected. The trip will take three days and cost each one of the pilgrims about $100. Breckenridge Long of St. Louis will be master of ceremonies, he having arranged the pilgrimage.

Priest Killed, Bishop and Other
Peoria Hurt in Auto Crash.
PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 4.—Rev. Father Schuets, Chancellor of the Peoria Catholic Diocese, was killed and Bishop Dunne of the Peoria Diocese and Father Shannon, Vicar General, were seriously injured in an auto smashup here to-day. The automobile turned over, pinning Father Schuets under the wreckage.

Conferences were held all day at the City Hall. When the big dealers had talked with the authorities they went into another room for consultation. Then the representatives of the farmers, headed by President Jacob Brill of the Dairymen's League and State Food Commissioner John J. Dillon, met the officials.

The heads of the distributing companies refused to meet the farmers' officers.

DEALERS REFUSE TO DISCUSS TERMS WITH LEAGUE.

"We will have nothing to do with the League," was the defiant statement of George W. Alger, counsel for the Sheffield Farms Company.

When the conferees left, the Mayor said no agreement had been reached. The Dairymen's League representatives had offered to withdraw their insistence on collective bargaining and the representative of the District Attorney had said that an agreement under this understanding would not be held to be a violation of the Donnelly act.

The Borden company offered to pay an advance of 35 cents a hundred pounds for the month of October and the other companies offered an advance of 31 cents, with the understanding that a commission to be appointed should at the end of the month, after investigation, make a report as to the future price, to which both sides would stand pledged.

The farmers rejected this, insisting on an increase of 45 cents per one hundred pounds for a period of six months.

"That ends it as far as I am concerned," said the Mayor. "I shall do nothing more. I have neither the power nor the function to go further in the matter."

Attorney General Woodbury announced that he had applied to Justice Bijur to appoint a referee to take testimony as to the mutual charges of the members of the Dairymen's League and the milk distributors that the Donnelly Act was being violated.

Justice Bijur, he said, had appointed William L. Dickman of Brooklyn, a partner of former Judge Edgar M. Cullen, as referee, and the hearings would begin at the New York City office of the Attorney General, No. 299 Broadway, Monday at 10.30 A. M.

The big companies that distribute milk received this morning less than half the normal supply of 2,400,000
